

A small victory in the continuing battle

The call to arms has been answered. Or so we think. As Insider's ears keep ringing with the sound of continuous nagging about professional qualifications within the financial sector, we are happy to report that Keith Churchouse, director of Churchouse Financial Planning, was made a fellow of the Personal Finance Society, following the completion of his BA (Hons) degree in Financial Services. Mr Churchouse said that the degree recognised his effort and commitment to the profession. Insider applauds Mr Churchouse and hopes that a few more advisers have jotted down similar plans for their new year's resolutions.

<http://www.ftadviser.com/default.aspx?m=11203&amid=125232>

Powered By Digimaker

© The Financial Times Limited 2008.

"FT", "Financial Times", "Money Management", "Investment Adviser" and "Financial Adviser" are trademarks of The Financial Times Limited and their associated companies. No part of this publication may be reproduced or used in any form without prior permission in writing from the editor.

Privacy Policy, Terms and Conditions.

Developed by Digimaker, The .NET CMS.